

Phlebotomy Course Resource Information

Registration

- Once prerequisites have been approved, students will receive an email with registration instructions.
- Students will also receive a separate email from notifications@instructure.com with an invitation to access their Canvas course.

Health & Safety Notice

In accordance with current Idaho legislation, immunizations are not required for enrollment in this course. However, students should be aware that phlebotomy training involves direct exposure to blood and potential contact with bloodborne pathogens.

For your personal safety, it is strongly recommended that you are up to date on all routine vaccinations, including completion of the Hepatitis B vaccination series. Students assume responsibility for their own health protection while participating in course activities.

Additional Costs

- Scrubs
- Textbook (hard copy or eBook accepted):
  - The Complete Textbook of Phlebotomy, 5th Edition by Lynn B. Hoeltke
  - ISBN: 978-1-337-28424-0
  - The textbook is available on the CEI Bookstore

Important Notice

CEI Workforce Training & Continuing Education does not provide coverage for personal injury or illness. Because lab activities involve some level of risk, all students are required to maintain their own health insurance while enrolled in the course.