A KLETC SIGNATURE LECTURE SERIES

Bulletproof Leadership™

This KLETC Signature Lecture will provide public safety leaders with strategies to help them get the results from employees that they want (and that the public demands). This training equips leaders with the tools they need to improve employee morale, accountability and performance in the occasionally difficult and always demanding public sector work environment. It is appropriate for both new and experienced supervisors and managers of any rank or position who want to get better results from their employees.

Presenter: Ron Glidden is a nationally recognized authority on employee performance issues. During his enlistment in the United States Coast Guard, and over 26 years in law enforcement (the last 17 as a police chief) Ron worked for and with a diverse group of professionals. He earned a B.S. in Human Services and a M.A. in Criminal Justice. As a trainer and a lifelong committed student of leadership, Ron has spent years researching the leadership strategies of successful organizations and their leadership teams. He's learned what it takes to build a workplace culture where employees are committed to their supervisors, their organization, and most importantly to those in the community that they serve.
