“Employment Law Update”

Presented by: Jeffrey Burgess    Hosted by:

Recent employment law changes affect all Oregon employers. In this session, the Technical Assistance for Employers trainer will cover the new laws just passed in the 2019 Oregon Legislative Session, including:

- Workplace Fairness Act
- Paid family leave
- Expression of breast milk
- Pregnancy accommodations
- Oregon Saves (update)
- Employee notification of federal inspections
- Minimum wage exemptions
- Transgender protections

This session will include tips and best practices for employers and time for Q&A.

PROFESSIONAL BIOGRAPHY

Jeff received his undergraduate degrees in Business Economics and Law and Society from the University of California at Santa Barbara where he was a Scottish Rite scholar. He went on to law school at the University of Mississippi and practiced law in California and Colorado for 15 years, focusing on litigation. He joined the Bureau of Labor and Industries in 2002 where he was an agency prosecutor for 7 years, taking civil rights and wage and hour cases to administrative hearing. In 2009 he joined the Technical Assistance for Employers Program where he teaches seminars, writes a newspaper column, edits handbooks and answers inquiries about employment law for business owners, managers, human resources professionals and attorneys.
